

Are you a new arrival in Sweden?

Here is your chance to learn more about living in Sweden!

The course is called An Introduction to Swedish Society (Samhällsorientering) and it covers the following topics:

- Coming to Sweden
- Living in Sweden
- Making a living and getting on in life
- The rights and duties of individuals
- Starting a family and living with your children in Sweden
- How to influence society
- Health care in Sweden
- Getting old in Sweden

The course will be given in your native language or another language that you know. During the course you can listen, ask questions and talk about things that interest you.

You can join the course if:

- you are a family member immigrant (anhöriginvandrare)
- you have an establishment plan (etableringsplan)

Please contact your local authority (kommun) for more information and an application form.

Useful information:

www.informationsverige.se is an internet portal for new arrivals in Sweden. On the website, you can read more about Swedish society. The information is available in a number of different languages.

"I think that everything about the course was good. The information was very important to me. And getting the information in my own language was very nice. I hope I can use what I learned by living in Sweden."
